- We sort organic waste at our office.
- We have identified food packaging and residues as important sources of waste.
- To reduce our office waste production, we launch awareness-raising campaigns among our staff.
- We use an internationally acknowledged method to estimate the various environmental impacts of our conventional waste production.

Office stationery

Material and natural resources

Our actions

- We purchase ecodesigned or recycled paper.
- The amount of energy directly consumed by products influences our purchasing decisions regarding office supplies.
- The recyclability/reusability of items influences our purchasing decisions.
- The display of an appropriate label is one of our criteria when purchasing office supplies.
- We recycle old supplies and equipment that are still in good working condition.

We raise awareness among employees about the importance of first reusing, recycling, then sorting waste before disposal.

Recruitment Staffing

Our actions

- We always use fair and transparent hiring practices.
- We always make employees read and sign written terms and conditions of employment.
- We restrict or prohibit the work of minors in accordance with relevant national laws, international standards, and EU directives.
